Flowers Make Fairy Bower Of Old Hall

Outrivaling fairyland in its riot of color and lovely form, Redmen's hall Saturday morning, afternoon and evening attracted throngs of flower lovers and amateur gardeners. Throughout the hours in which was open the great annual display of blossoms, sponsored each year by the garden section of the Women's Civic club, the great hall was filled with happy participants and delighted spectators.

Entering the hall the first feature to impress the eye was a cottage facade, that looked as if it had been lifted bodily from Kate Greenway's rhymes for children, wattled roof, casement windows, and all. In the open doorway was a gorgeous picture bouquet of zinnias, enshrined in a lovely old gilt frame against a dark velvet back ground. The cottage facade and floral environment were the gift of C. E. Parsons and Fred E. Conner.

Near at hand was the "picture gallery," in which this idea of lovely bouquets in beautiful frames, in charming vases, set against contrasting backgrounds, was exemplified in several beautiful and unusual compositions.

But on the way to these two features were tables daintly clothed as for a feast, on which the pride and joy of Nevada City's gardens were arranged to enchant the eye.

Contributors to this extraordinary floral exposition were: Mrs. Shaw, Miss Gertrude Goyne, Mrs. R. R. Goyne, Mrs. W. A. Mulloy, Mrs. P. G. Scadden, whose table with its rich variety and extraordinary large blooms of gladiolas and dahlias attracted much praise, Miss [illegible] president of the Civic club, Mrs. E. W. Schreiber, Mrs. Wade Armstrong, Mrs. George Calanan, Mrs. Fred Tredennick, Mrs. R. J. Bennetts, Mrs. A. W. Hoge, Mrs. A. W. Hoge Jr., Mrs. Elza Kilroy, Mrs. H. H. Hallet, Mrs. W. L. Williamson, Mrs. W. L. Mobley, Mrs. E. W. Penrose, Mrs. E. L. Towle, Mrs. King, Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mrs. William McQuire, Mrs. Lyda Talbot, Mrs. B. L. Syms, Mrs. Herbert Hallet, Mrs. R. E. Harris, Mrs. R. C. Martens, Mrs. A. C. Randall, Mrs. Antone, Miss Alice Moore, Harry Parsons, H. M. Leete, Mrs. W. H. Gorde, and Mrs. John R. Ivey.

During the afternoon and evening delightful programs were arranged. During the morning the pioneer women of Nevada City were honored as follows:

Mrs. Henry Gunther, Mrs. Josephine Schwartz, Mrs. Hattie Legg, Mrs. A. W. Lester, Mrs. Charles Grimes, Mrs. W. E. Meservey, Mrs. Thomas Jewett, Mrs. M. Kernhammer and Mrs. Sarah Clutter, During the afternoon the club had the boys from the C. C. C. camp as their guests.

Mayor R. C. Bennetts presided as program chairman in the evening. Beautiful and appropriate solos were sang by Mrs. Katherine Celio and Mrs. Charles P. Elliott, accompanied by Miss Minnie Brand, and Mrs. Goede rendered a delightful selection upon the violin accompanied by Marshall Geiselman.

RANDOLPH CARTER TO FLY TO CHICAGO

Mr. Randolph Carter will leave tomorrow at 10 o'clock for Chicago to attend the Century of Progress Fair. His wife and son, Sheriff George R. Carter will motor to Reno with him and he will go from there by fast airplane arriving in Chicago in a few hours.

Mr. Carter attended the fair in Chicago in 1904 leaving here Wednesday, September 6, and this trip is about 29 years and two weeks later, Tuesday September 19.

While he is getting along in years Mr. Carter is an active man taaking an interest in local affairs and enjoys attending the fair where he stated he was going to try to see everything of importance and tell us of it when he returns.

Mr. Carter makes about the twenty-fourth person from Nevada City to attend the Chicago Century of Progress Fair, so far.

VALIANT DOG LOSES LIFE IN BATTLE WITH PORCUPINE

The porcupine got the best of it, and the dog lost his life as the result of a valiant fight.

Fred Breeze and L. G. Smith went fishing over the week end and took Don, a fox terrier, belonging to Mr. Smith with them. The fishing was excellent and the anglers were busy whipping the stream.

In the meantime Don, watchdog and courageous warrier discovered the porcupine. "As usual "porkie" rolled up into the ball. But Don, nothing daunted attempted to unroll the ball, with the result that he limped back to his master so full of needle-pointed quills that he had to be shot to end his suffering.

EDWARD SKINNER OF CAMPTONVILLE DEAD

CAMPTONVILLE, Sept. 15.—Edward Skinner, better known as "Pinkie," a pioneer resident of this seciton passed away last week at the Yuba County Hospital at Marysville, his death coming as a surprise to his acquaintances in this section, who did not know he was ill. He was over 75 years of age and on the pension roll of Yuba county, having spent his life in this section, and during the early days was a prominent figure in political circles in the county.

GOODWILL CARAVAN TO TOUR YUBA COUNTY

Under the auspices of the Yuba River Country association a goodwill party of business men from Nevada City and Grass Valley will leave on a motor tour of the towns along the Downieville highway tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, returning Wednesday afternoon.

The party will make stops in North San Juan, Alleghany, Forest, Camptonville, and Downieville, and will probably spend the night in Sierra City.

Among those who will represent Nevada City in this goodwill caravan are: F. F. Cassidy, president of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce, F. E. Conner, manager of the Nevada County Lumber Company, E. W. Schreiber, proprietor of Schreibers cafe, Supervisors Cary Arbogast and E. B. Dudley, and Mayor R. C. Bennetts. A. E. Goddard, of the State Chamber of Commerce will be a member of the party.

STATE FAIR GETS MILLION FOR BUILDINGS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 18—(UP)—An imposing array of new buildings will be ready for visitors at the California state fair next year if the $1,215,000 building program approved by board of directors and Finance Director Rolland A. Vandegrift is carried out.

Chief among the additions proposed would be a $450,000 coliseum in which to stage the horse show, one of the annual fair's outstanding attractions. The present arena proved inadequate to care for the crowds attending the classic events this year.

Other propsed structures include: A host building, $200,000; educational building, $170,000; 4-H club building, $170,000; Future Farmers building, $225,000. The construction program hings on funds to be received from the federal government under the NRA act.

Mrs. Paul Andrews and duaghter Roxana, who motored to Nevada City recently from Boston, have leased an apartment from Mrs. C. B. O'Connor. She came down from the Grizzly mine near North Columbia Friday and was accompanied by Mr. Thomas Scadden. Mrs. Andrews stated that she plans to start reopening the Grizzly mine in the spring.

SHOOTS BIG BUCK IN SELPH DEFENCE

...Cary Arbogast, county supervisor, just had to kill a two point buck to save himself from being run over.

Out with the Davis brothers, Gilbert and Harry, Saturday, he took his stand at the top of a ridge, while his companions went down to rouse the deer from the ravine. Without warning a ninety pound buck came bouncing right through the bushes where Arbogast had his stand. One split second more and the supervisor would have been under the hoofs of the flying buck. But it was enough. In the fraction of a split second, with unerring eye, Arbogast fired, and the deer somersaulted to his feet. He calmly reached into his pocket and tagged the antlers without moving from his tracks. Pretty easy, says the supervisor.

NEW RED TAPE HITS SNIPERS

The gold panner, the little fellow with his 10 cents worth to $2.00 worth of gold, is getting all the worst of it under the new Treasury regulations regarding the sale of gold at world prices. He brings 33 cents worth of gold, for instance to any Nevada City gold buyer or the bank, and then he must fill in a four page affidavit and pay four-bits to have it notaried. He is out just 17 cents on this part of the deal.

Then the gold buyer turns around and fills out another affidavit, five pages this time, telling what he knows about the gold and the man who is selling it, and there is another four-bits gone bluey, and the seller, who has to pay for all this red tape yardage, is out 17 cents plus 50 cents, which makes a total of 67 cents to sell 33 cents worth of gold.

But gold buyers and bankers are making themselves heard in Washington, and perhaps something can be done about it before Christmas.

Of course the sniper with his pill bottle of gold, can still sell his gold at the old price without the mile of affidavits and red tape. And that is what they are doing. But Uncle Sam should do something to lift this load and let the patient panner actually get the same price as the big producing companies.

RED FLAG; SCARED BULL; EMPTY TRAILER

WILLOWS, Sept. 18—(UP)—The members of a highway crew working near here are agreed that bulls really have an aversion for red flags.

Seeking to slow down the automobile of J. N. Cook, Orland rancher one of the crew waved the cutsomary flag. In a trailor attached to the car was a bull. The animal also saw the flag, overturned the trailer and bolted to a nearby field.

With the aid of the highway workers, Cook righted the trailer and after considerable difficulty succeeded in getting the bull back into the vehicle.

ELECTROCUTED BIRD STARTS FOREST FIRE

CAMPTONVILLE, Sept. 18—A "bird fire" took place Monday morning in the Tahoe National Forest, in the vicinity of Pike City, five miles east of here, but was quickly put out of the way by the local forest service department... A bird lit on one of the P. G. & E. high tension power poles, and became too close to the heavy voltage wire and a lightening rod on the pole, causing a contact between them, killing the bird, and setting fire to its wing feathers. The bird immediately dropped to the ground, setting fire to the grass which ignited the forest. The bird with the burned wing was found on the ground at the foot of the pole where the fire started. Two truck loads of C. C. C. boys, one from Miller Ranch and one from Frog Hollow, responded to the call and the fire was under control within an hour.

HYDRAULIC RAM TO WORK MILES UNDER MOUNTAIN

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 18—(UP)—While many of the world's foremost mining engineers shake their heads dubiously, W. L. Leland is directing operations at the California Treasure Box gold mine which may revolutionize all previously conceived mining theories.

Backed by a lifetime of gold hunting and engineering, Leland is preparing to start hydraulic operations miles underground to tap a hitherto unreachable source of the precious yellow metal.

Grimy, perspiring miners swing picks, monotonously and unceasingly in a tunnel under and parellelnig the widely known Mammoth Channel where Butte creek twists and tumbles through rugged hills 15 miles east of Chico.

Already they have chewed through more than three-fourths of a mile of stubborn lava. As they advance toward Mammoth Channel, an ancient buried river channel considered as large as the vast Columbia river bed, the workers blast away boulders and erect timbers.

The work proceeds despite the warning of experts who claim underground hydraulic mining through ground that requires timbering is impossible.

Located approximately 139 feet below Mammoth Channel, the tunnel eventually will be upraised into that chasm buried unknown centuries ago when tons of lava seared scorching paths down mountain sides and filled the stream bed.

A reservoir has been constructed at the tunnel portal. From there water will be piped to the old channel and released—with terrific force—against walls of the underground gorge, which previously have been blasted.

A specially constructed steel flume will carry the gravel and water out of the tunnel. Leland expects to run as high as 3000 carloads per day through the flume.

MANY HUNT DEER BUT FEW BRING 'EM HOME

There were many hunting parties formed in Nevada City over the week end. Scores of hunters, from other sections, passed through Nevada City enroute to the high mountains.

As the parties returned they reported deer scarce and there were no tracks even in places where many have been killed in past seasons.

Two nice deer were killed by outside hunters are hanging up in the Keystone Meat Market.

Other hunters killing deer this week end, were A. Tadolini, who killed a freak four point buck and Charles Simoin of San Francisco, brought in a two pointer. Charles Gans of North Bloomfield killed a four point buck in th eSnow Tent region.

Vic Gates has a nice four point buck hanging up in the Valley Meat Company ice plant, which he killed in the Omega district north east of Nevada City.

C. C. C. Camps To Be Moved In October

Approximately 50 per cent of the boys in the C. C. C. camps are preparing to go home at the end of the present enrollment term, October 1. Many of them have jobs promised them, some of them were homesick and undoubtedly some of them found the work incompatible.

From the Miller ranch camp will depart 116 boys, from Oak ranch 105 boys, from the Baker ranch 122 boys, from Satly 76, and from Truckee 107. Bear Valley and North Bloomfield have not yet reported the number who will not enroll for the second 6-month's term.

MOVIN DAYS COMING

The first of October will witness a large number of moving days in the C. C. C. camps. Generally speaking the camps will be moved down below the sonw line for the winter, and when their personnel has been enrolled to the 200 mark again in each camp, the boys will tackle an enormous, monumental job, that is, building a great fire break to be known as Ponderosa Way, between the brush lands and the yellow Pine zone, from Tulare county north to the Shasta National Forest and then down the east side of the coast range from Mendocino south.

The winter camps are to be established as follows: Spring Garden in Placer county, Applegate, Bree Ranch, four miles south of Grass Valley, Bridgeport, Spring Creek, near Columbia Hill which will continue some of the Bloomfield camp work not yet completed, and one at Oregon Creek, near Freeman's Crossing.

BARRACKS TO BE BUILT

These camps will be of more permanent character than most of camps occupied this summer. Each camp will be a barracks amp consisting of the following buildings: Four barraks buildings, 20 by 105 feet, a mess hal 20 by 120 feet, a forestry building, an administration building a dry house and a cooler.

These buildings will be errected probably by contractors and the C. C. C. boys will not be employed upon them.

FOREST AND BOYS BENEFIT

R. L. P. Bigelow, superisor of Tahoe National Forest this morning stated that an enormous amount of work has been accomplished by the C. C. C. camp boys, and that, much as the boys have improved the forests, the forests have greatly benefited the boys. They are sturdier and the light discipline of work, the camp sports, the good table fare, have all built them up physicially, while been promoted to the leadership esprinciples of team work instilled in them have had a splendid effect in character building.

Many of the youngsters have become experts in handling tractors, engines and trucks, and in the use of dynamite. A few of them have become proficient that they have been promoted to the leadership established in each camp.

GRASS VALLEY MINERS IN LEAGUE SERIES LEAD

The Grass Valley Miners won a closely contested ball game Sunday with the Woodland Oaks, at Woodland, with a score of 9 to 7. The series now stand 2 to 1 in the Sacramento Valley League in favor of the Grass Valley Miners. The game played a week ago at Grass Valley which was protested will be played next Sunday at Grass Valley.

The game Sunday was a loose one with five errors being made by Woodland and with three for Grass Valley. Woodland scored four runs in the first inning and Grass Valley 1. Woodland was leading at the close of the fourth inning with a score of 6 to 1. With two men on bases Barnwell put the game on ice for the Grass Valley Miners by knocking a home run over the left field fence. The fifth inning brought in seven runs for the Miners.

A large crowd from Grass Valley and Sacramento Valley districts attended the game disregarding a strong and disagreeable wind.

THREE COLUSA BULLS INJURE THREE MEN

COLUSA, Sept. 18—(UP)—At least three Colusa county residents are willing to testify that the "male of the species" is just as deadly as the female.

Hospital records show the three Colusans were each treated for injuries inflicted by infuriated bulls. All occurred on different ranches in this vicinity.

John Alexnader was cut and bruised when knocked down by a bull; Corbin Watt, 15, received a broken leg when a bull charged the pony he was riding, and L. A. Nichols was tossed ten feet in the air by a maddened bull.

WHOOPEE! NEW TEETH AT 71! SAYS ITS N. R. A.

W. A. Sharp, 71 years of age, who has lived in Nevada City the last 15 years, was a Nugget visitor Wednesday morning and confided in a reporter of that paper that he was cutting his third set of teeth. The six new ones in his mouth came within the last three or four months and his gums are sore so he feels certain of cutting more in a few days. He says its because of the N. R. A. and the New Deal.

He says he is getting younger and feels like he was about 16 years old.

When asked for his prescription and diet for his long life and extra sets of teeth he said he drank lots of milk and chews lots of tobacco.

Mr. Sharp was born in Napa county in 1862 and is one of seven boys. Until he was 18 years of age he never smelt liquor. He has never been in jail ,nor has he ever been in a lawsuit, always leading a peaceful life. For a number of years ,he followed mining.

He has a family of four boys and two girls, thirteen grand children and two great grand children.

Another lucky circumstance is the fact that with this large family there have only been three deaths in the last 50 years, never losing a child or grand child in all that time. He is the father of W. A. Sharp, mine promoter, who recently moved from here to Camino with his family.

Mr. Sharp, who owns a home on Spring street, figures on living 20 years longer. He is in perfect health except for a slight injury in one hip. He is troubled with two cataracts on his eyes and has to wear dark glasses on sunny days and all objects appear dim to him, but after sun down down, night or before sunup he can plainly see a distance of 150 yards, and can read a newspaper easily without glasses.

He is quite proud that he has a N. R. A. sign in his window. When asked what he thought of it he stated he thought it one of the greatest systems ever known and as soon as the people are educated to it, it will work perfectly.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duhane and son of Sacramento, were recent visitors at the James Dolan home in Nevada City.

THIS MARKED BABY STORY IS TRUE

Is an unborn baby marked when its mother suffers a shock prior to its birth? This question has agitated not only medical men but laymen as well for generations. Many people stoutly deny that there is anything in it. But one, man who thinks that there is something to it has given a very convincing example to the world:

An expectant mother put up one night at a small hotel. She went to the bath room, and was horified when she opened the door to see a naked man sitting in the tub. Three weeks later her baby boy was born stark naked.

KINGFISH'S BLACK EYE PLEASES $120,000,000 PEOPLE

Dispatches telling of a "sock in the eye" administered by an unknown assailant to United States Senator Huey P. Long were gleefully received by most California editors.

Hearty endorsement was given proposals to present a gold medal to the man who blacked the "kingfish's" optic—if the assailant's identy is ever made known.

"Press accounts of Senator Huey Long's fight in a Long Island club leave the reader badly puzzled," said the Marysville Appeal-Democrat. "According to Long, he was attacked by bold, bad men intent on giving him the works, for what reason he does not explain. X X X X The other version, vouched, for by New York newspapers, is that the kingfish was in an exceedingly jovial mood at the club, which is one customarily patronized by the social elite and not by gangsters. X X X X The gash over Long's eye, the same account attributes to the fist of an engineer who objected to his frivolity. The only thing certain about the episode is that the kingfish has not lost his knack of keeping in the spotlight, whether in or out of the halls of Congress."

Describing the black eye as one of the most famous of this decade, the Oroville Mercury-Register approves the discretion displayed by the "socker" in remaining in the background, stating:

"The country is seeking the man who blacked Huey Long's eye, wanting to make a hero out of him, but he remains modestly, and discreetly, in the background. It is discreet, for Huey might sue him."

After reviewing the several versions of the afair, the Salinas Index-Journal declares:

"More and more does this man become a national disgrace. Added to the sordid tales, which may not be true but which most people belive, of the graft which has prevailed in his state, and to his clownish conduct in the senate, comes this incident, where a United States senator conducts himself like a barroom rowdy, if the most credible story is correct."

"On top of his other troubles," comments the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat, "Huey has been reminded that the senate investigation of the election of Senator John H. Overton, colleague and close political friend of the Louisiana loudspeaker is to be resumed October 16. X X X. all in all, the future is not over bright for Huey Long, self-styled Louisiana "kingfish," but in reality a buffoon and misfit and a disgrace to American public life."

"We may never know the true cause of the slugging," remarks the Stockton Record, "although it will readily be conceded that Long got what he deserved. The name of his assailant seems to have been covered up by a gentleman's agreement. That also may remain a mystery. But not since homage was first paid to America's unknown soldier will as many persons rise to bless the unknown socker of Sands Point who finally put Huey Long in his place."

"That this was one of those epic battles you read about seems very clear," concludes the Riverside Daily Press. "What is not so clear, unfortunately, is the identity of the gentleman who colaborated with the senator in the encounter. Here is a man who seems to be hiding his bright light under a bushel.

WEEKLY COMMENT

By CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

The picture of Franklin D. Roosevelt which hangs in the "big" room of our house is admired by all who see it. It is the first picture of any president which has attracted so much attention. Even the children cast admiring glances at the picture and some of them ask questions about him. This all seems to me to be a healthly indication of the respect which everybody has for this man of the hour.

While I dislike to be making remarks about the Lamson trial in this column I can scarcely refrain from saying that without regard for Lamson's guilt or innocense. The district attorney's office has certainly made a travesty of the trial. It seemed not to be a question of representing the people or of guarding the rights of a citizen, but simply a question of convicting that citizen in any way, or by any method.

Gee! Whizz! and here we are again almost in the middle of another football season and it seems only so short a time since we ourselves were the very spear head of the then most effective football weapon, the flying wedge. The next time you see me just look at my crooked nose that is my proudest possession, gained in the line of supposed duty viz, defending dear old alma mater. You should have seen the guy with whom we collided.

Course, I haven't any gold to sell, but still I am interested in finding out what the price is today.

I am mighty worked up over the fact that someone has put a galvanized roof on the old Oregon Creek bridge. The darned thing is shiny and modern and therefore throws the otherwise artistic old landmark clear out of kilter. Shingles would have been so much appropriate. I am glad that it is not in Nevada county. Anyway OUR Supervisors have an eye to artistic merit.

I stopped at the Donner Monument the other day. To me it is one of the most impressive monuments in the state, both for its size and for the sentiment expressed in bronze. The determination of the pioneers is stamped in the metal. I saw this monument once when the snow was on the ground and I let my thoughts review the tragic pageant of these pioneers. Theirs was an ascetic life that is why hardship and privation was just a part of that days work. All honor then to these trail blazers.

One sur eway to make me buy something else is to tell me that so and so just bought one. I guess that is pure cussedness.

There is one reasuring thing about this buy-in-September drive. If we spend all of our money in September the U. S. mint will still be making money in October. Some of that money will no doubt come to hand. It is alright to be sensible but there never was any sense in, or excuse for hoarding or miserliness.

COUNTY SHARE STATE SCHOOL FUND, $165,000

.... By THOMAS B. MALARKEY ....

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 18—(UP)—Burdensome load of school taxes borne by California's 58 counties will be lightened by $38,515,176 during the first year the Riley-Stewart tax revision plan is in effect.

Such was the announcement of Vierling Kersey, director of education, after analyzing figures on the state's school apportionment for the fiscal year of 1934.

The state's total contribution to schools will be $69,430,350. Broken down, this figure represents: $42,392,700 for elementary schools; $25,397,912 for high schools and $1,649,737 for junior colleges.

NEVADA CO. ALLOTMENT

Nevada county's share of the apportionment for elementary schools was ..$103,541; for ..high ..schools, $61,339.

Reason for the lower county school cost is, of course, self evident. Last June 27 the electorate approved by a substantial majority the Riley-Stewart tax revision plan. Cornerstone of this drastic program called for transfer of the counties fixed school charges—$30 per elementary pupil and $60 for each high school student—to the state.

To raise additional revenue to meet increased school costs of the state, the legislature at its midsummer session passed a 2½ per cent retail sales tax.

RELIEF TO OVERTAXED

Objective of the Riley-Stewart plan was to transfer part of the tax load from 750,000 tax payers who were overtaxed, according to state officials, to the entire public, using the sales tax as a vehicle.

The state's assumption of the county school costs is not its only obligation to schools. It will continue, as heretofore, to pay another $30 per high school and elementary pupil; also $85 for each Junior College student. The state's contribution to the seven state teachers colleges and the University of California are not computed in Kersey's total school apportionment figures.

The director of education said his department would discharge the school apportionments to various counties in 10 monthly installments beginning in September.

COOKS LEAD LIST IN STATE LABOR CAMPS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 18—(UP)—If any members of the state labor camps went hungy last winter it apparently wasn't because of the lack of cooks.

Aside from common laborers, according to the final report of camp activities submitted by Dan H. Blood, director of natural resources, the cooks led in occupational classifications. The list showed 889 cooks, 411 waiters, 529 carpenters, 557 farmers, 385 miners, 202 plumbers, 236 painters, 312 clerks, 228 salesmen, 126 sailors, 37 auditors, 23 telegraph operators, 25 musicians, 4 aviators, 3 watchmakers and 15 tailors.

In addition six others gave professional ratings as follows: Doctors, 2; dentists, 1; and motion picture operators, 3.

SHORT CUT IN LASSEN PARK COST THREE FINES

RED BLUFF, Sept. 18—(UP)—The longest way round really is the cheapest, in the opinion of three Oroville residents.

Robert Hughes, Charlotte Ridling and Leon McMullen paid fines of $2.50 each before the United States commissioner for taking a shortcut through Lassen Volcanis National park.

The three were cited by Forest Ranger Russell Farmer on charges of violating the statue prohibiting the cutting of trails in a national park.

BLOSSOMS SURPRISE FRUIT ON APPLE TREE

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 18—(UP)—If apples on a tree in the yard of J. W. Damkroger could talk, they would undoubtedly give vent to a long list of exclamations beginning, "What the'.....'

These particular apples awoke to the fact the other day they were surrounded by blossoms.

Usual blossom time is in the spring and fall is reserved for the apples. The blossoms on this particular tree performed "according to Hoyle" last Spring but unexpectedly reappeared just about the time the fruit was to be harvested.

FRANK HAYNIE RENEWS OLD ACQUAINTANCE HERE

Frank Haynie, who is in charge of the forest service supply depot in Alameda, is visiting with former friends in Nevada City. He was in the forest service here several years ago. BENEFIT DANCE AT CAMPTONVILLE SATURDAY

CAMPTONVILLE, Sept. 13.—The last dance of the season will be held Saturday evening, September 23, at the local hall and is given as a benefit for the improvement of the street in front of the hall. Very good music is beins obtained for the occasion, and the usual good supper, characteristic of this community will be furnished. This will be the last of five successful dances for this year, and a large crowd is expected to attend.

MOTORISTS PAY $1,980 IN FINES IN NEVADA CO.

By MELVIN LORD

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 18—(UP)—Nevada couty motorists paid $1,980 in traffic fines during the first seven months of the year as a result of activities of members of the California state highway patrol.

Records of the patrol reveal that during the same period, the traffic fine total for the entire state, from the standpoint of state officers, amounted to $212,621,31.

While the amount represents what appears to be a large aggregate, officials pointed out that while patrolmen stopped 32,937 motorists, only 5,575 actual arrests were made during the period.

WARNINGS PREFERRED

That difference in stops and arrests represents the policy of the patrol to give the motoroists every opportunity to keep within the laws governing traffic on California's far-flung system of highways. The policy is based on the contention it is better to prevent accidents rather than make arrests after accidents occur.

The record of activities of the patrol indicate the lif eof the highway officer is not devoted only to the questionable pleasure of riding up and down his "beat" on a motorcycle.

LOS ANGELES FINES HIGHEST

As an example the record shows that 19,633 light warnings were issued, 28,014 light tests were made, 1945 citations for speeding were issued in addition to 1,626 others for other violations of road rules.

Los Angeles county led the state in the collection of fines with a total of $28,122, while San Diego county was not far behind with $26,596.53.

Alpine county has one highway patrolmen, but no fines were collected during the seven-month period.

Mrs. Clarence Shurtleff is in Oakland visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Johnson, for a ten day stay. She attended the Nevada county reunion at Mosswood Park last Sunday.

The school house was decorated for the occasion, a setting of ferns forming a background. Miss Ethel Vestal acted as organist and just preceding the ceremony Mrs. Burke sang, "At Dawning". As the wedding march was played, the bride attired in a blue silk, came to the altar attended by Mrs. Iola J. Livermore. Little Miss Mary Wehrle acting as flower girl, with Master Dale Phillips, as ring bearer. The groom was attended by Harry S. Livermore, and Lew Livermore acted as usher. The Judge used a ceremony over eighty years old, one used by other members of his family formerly filling this office, and one very appropriate to the occasion.

Following the ceremony, congratulations, with plenty of rice, were in order, following with a dance and refreshments. The entire community and people from the surrounding country were present, and assisted in giving the young couple a good start on the matrimonial road.

They expect to make their home in Sierra county where the young man is connected with the mining industry.

LEGS TOO SHORT DRIVER JAILED FOR 10 DAYS

NORTH SACRAMENTO, Sept. 18—(UP)—Behind the bars of the city jail, F. Suyeda, Japanese truck gardener, gazes disconsolately at his legs whose amazing shortness was responsible for his incarceration.

Suyeda is only four feet tall. His legs are so short he can't comfortably reach the control pedals of his car. Consequently the state refused to grant him a driver's lincense.

The other day, he was apprehended by a state highway patrolman. Because he had granted three suspended sentences on the same charge before, th magistrate concluded it was time to act. He sent the gardener to jail for ten days.
